Department of Environment Director Gina Ebanks-Petrie recognised at Island Innovation Awards

Department of Environment Director Gina Ebanks-Petrie was recognised as the 2022 Women Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) Leadership Award recipient at the Island Innovation Awards ceremony on Friday, 29 April, 2022.

The Women SDG Leadership Award celebrates an outstanding woman leader who is driving positive social, economic, or environmental change in her country, island, or community.

Unaware she had been nominated for an award, Ebanks-Petrie said the honour came as a complete surprise.

"This award is a testament to the collective efforts of the dedicated, hardworking team I have the privilege of leading," Ebanks-Petrie said. "We work every day to serve the people of the Cayman Islands by helping to conserve our environment and responsibly managing our natural resources. Sustainable Development Goals 13 – Climate Action, 14 – Life Below Water and 15 – Life On Land, are paramount to our mission. I hope this award will inspire, not just other women in the field of environmental sustainability, but everyone in our community who is working towards a more sustainable and climate resilient future for the Cayman Islands."

Premier and Minister of Sustainability & Climate Resiliency Hon. G. Wayne Pantan, JP, MP congratulated Ebanks-Petrie on the well-deserved recognition.

"Gina's accomplishments certainly make her a worthy recipient of this award: Her 26 years at the helm of the Department of Environment, and her many years of dedicated services prior to taking up that role, have culminated in expansive protections for our coastal waters, and the passage of landmark legislation to conserve our terrestrial environment," he said. "It also speaks volumes about the caliber of Gina's leadership that her staff would take the time to nominate her for this recognition on the global stage."

Senior Environmental Assessment Officer at the Department of Environment Lauren Dombowsky said: "Gina has taught me that through perseverance, we can make tangible change for the better."

About the Awards

Dedicated to individuals, organisations and projects driving positive change for remote and island communities globally, the Island Innovation Awards are hosted in partnership with the Clinton Global Initiative.

The 2022 awardees were decided by a 20-person jury that included Former President Of The Republic Of Seychelles James Michel, Former United Nations High Representative Fekitamoeola Katoa 'Utoikamanu, Blue Planet Alliance President Henk Rogers and 8th Vice-Chancellor of The University of the West Indies Sir Hilary Beckles, among other esteemed evaluators.

Island Innovation is a global network of private sector companies, governments, universities, NGOs and utilities connecting

EARL LA PIERRE: PAN MAESTRO WITH A PLAN FOR CAYMAN

The infectious joy of steel pan music seeps from every pore of Earl La Pierre. The pan maestro who has made Cayman his adopted home has brought his passion and musical skills from his birthplace Trinidad and Tobago to Cayman via Toronto.

Learning to master the instrument in his homeland, Earl played and taught pan in Toronto going as far as getting the art-form onto the curriculum of the University of Toronto.

Now making Cayman his home after a short 10-day music tour in 1986 resulted in requests for a return trip, Earl took up the offer...and as the saying goes, the rest is the history - the musical history he is making with 'pan in Cayman'.

Further evidence of that happens this weekend with the 17th Amin Mohammed Steel Band Festival. The event started by Earl and the late Cayman-based Trinidadian banker and pan enthusiast, Amin Mohammed, has grown in leaps, bounds - and sounds - with pan music now a staple in the Cayman music spectrum.

PAN FESTIVAL

Through Earl's efforts, steelpan has been integrated into the curriculum of the University of the Cayman Islands and has found a home at the John Gray High School, the venue for the Amin Mohammed Steel Band Festival (and competition) this weekend.

The event this year will be held on Saturday May 21st starting at 6:30pm, sponsored by the Department of Education and Cayman National Bank.

Students from John Gray and other public and private schools will demonstrate their pan-playing skills in competition and for the enjoyment of the public.

Once again it promises to be an evening of exceptional musicianship, an indication of the way the steelpan has embedded itself into Cayman culture, a far cry from the days in 1986 when Earl first visited and exposed Cayman to pan...and vice versa.

Since then 'pan in Cayman' has gone from an instrument of curiosity to a cultural staple in both commercial and educational settings with Earl La Pierre playing the roles of 'lead pan', educator, motivator, main flag-waver and pan ambassador.

PAN CAYMAN

Speaking to Ralph Lewis on Cayman Conversations this week, Earl's contagious enthusiasm for the instrument and its further possibilities for Cayman was on full display.

Already, in addition to persons in Cayman who have taken up the steel pan professionally, many amateur players and turning to pan as an instrument of choice for their pastime, among them HE Governor Martyn Roper.

With the steelpan long established as the instrument around which the Trinidad carnival is built, pan has made inroads into Caribbean carnivals in the United States, Canada and Europe...and Caymanians are quite literally 'playing a part' in that, thanks to Earl.

"After Trinidad, it's New York, then Europe for steelband carnival. Those bands are humongous. And most of the kids from the Cayman Islands are up there playing music too because they went to go to school and (joined) the steelbands," he enthused.

"And people are shocked that Cayman Islands have those good pan players!"

"They come from one country to another and they jump in right in the groove!"

It's important to note that most - if not all - of those students would have at some point been tutored in steelpan music by Earl.

A well-known soca song from Trinidad lamented a few years that pan was in danger (Pan in Danger by Merchant).

Clearly, that's not the case for Cayman where Earl La Pierre has the plans and the passion to keep pan in the limelight.

Health City Cayman Islands founder promises expanded educational opportunities, as staff are rewarded for excellent service

► Chairman's Award Recipient - Lanisia McLaughlin

Dr. Devi Shetty, the world renowned cardiac surgeon whose vision it was to create Health City Cayman Islands, has said he plans to further establish the internationally accredited specialty hospital as a leading medical education institution serving the Caribbean and other countries in the Western Hemisphere.

Already renowned for its track record of excellent patient outcomes across a vast number of surgical and medical specialties, Health City has started construction of a new super-specialty hospital in Camana Bay, which the integrated cancer care aspect of the facility is scheduled to be open by November 2022 and the remainder by last quarter 2023.

However, the founder and chairman said providing high-quality medical care is only one aspect of his vision. "We do have an obligation to the government and people of the Cayman Islands, who went out of their way to help us become established over the past eight years. To pay them back, we will convert Health City to be an institution for training the students of the Cayman Islands as the future dynamic doctors, nurses, medical technicians with magic in their fingers," said Dr. Shetty, as he addressed Health City staff at a Founder's Day event on May 7th.

"At some point in time, we need to convert our entire Health City as an institute of medical education, nursing education, paramedical education." Through its Healthcare Explorers program, Health City already provides a variety of educational opportunities for students in the Cayman Islands.

During the ceremony that coincided with Dr. Shetty's birthday celebrations, a number of staff were recognized for their outstanding contributions. Among them was Ms. Lanisia McLaughlin, Referrals and Emergencies Manager, who was presented with the Chairman's Award for her dedicated service since the hospital in East End opened in 2014.

"Lanisia has been an important member of the team from the start. Her unwavering commitment to professionalism in ensuring emergency patients get the care they need is a living testimony to the vision of healthcare that Dr. Shetty envisioned when he embarked on the journey to establish Health City. You have two types of individuals in this world when there is a fire, you have those that scamper away and those that dash in to douse the flames. We know which type Lani is and I am overtly proud that someone who stood shoulder to shoulder with our team from the beginning is receiving this well-earned honor," said Chief Business Officer, Mr. Shomari Scott.

Employee Excellence Awards were also presented to the following employees for the first four months of 2022: Keerthi Muniswamy of the Health City at Camana Bay Clinic (January), Assistant International Patient Care Team Manager, Pamela Dilicio (February), Operation Theatre nurse Govindarajulu Narasimhulu (March), and Security Officer Mike McLaughlin (April).

"I take this opportunity to thank each and every one of you – all of our doctors, nurses, paramedics, technicians, administrators, and everyone involved in running Health City Cayman Islands for doing a phenomenal job," said Dr Shetty before the awards were presented.

Clinical Director, Dr. Binoy Chattuparambil, explained that the work of Health City's many talented specialists would not be possible without the support of other staff. "Our goal is to save lives and improve the quality of life for our patients, and to have an amazing cadre of local talent at our institution already fits into the vision of our founder to have more Caymanians pursuing healthcare careers and we look forward to this trend continuing," said Dr. Binoy.

CEC's Economic Impact Over a Decade Has Reached USD 662 Million

Cayman Enterprise City publishes Economic Impact Assessment by Marla Dukharan

► Marla Dukharan

Cayman Enterprise City (CEC) has publicly released its annual Economic Impact Assessment on the special economic zones (SEZs) development.

Written by Marla Dukharan, global economist and leading advisor on Caribbean region economic performance initiatives, the report assesses the economic and socioeconomic impact of the ever-growing CEC development project, demonstrating the project's substantial impact on the Cayman Islands economy.

"The results from the 2021 Economic Impact report are a testament to the success of CEC as well as to the strength of the jurisdiction. CEC's mission has always been to attract new knowledge-based industries to the Cayman Islands, to provide a world-class platform for innovative businesses to flourish, and to serve the needs of our community by helping to diversify our economy. Our community efforts include our continued investment to non-profit workforce initiative Enterprise Cayman, which is designed to help Caymanians and residents with access to high-quality learning experiences and opportunities to pursue careers in the technology and innovation sectors" said Charlie Kirkconnell, CEO of Cayman Enterprise City.

The independent assessment outlines the significant contributions the CEC development project has made to the Cayman Islands economy since its inception 10 years ago, as well as a look to future benefits for Caymanians, local industry, government, academia, and non-profit organisations.

CEC's first 10 years of operations have had an economic impact of USD 662 million on the Cayman Islands economy. This includes the project's direct impact and indirect impact, as well as government revenues. Importantly, the trajectory of CEC's impact is on the rise with an estimated economic impact of USD 160 million in 2021, demonstrating that project continues to deliver on the vision of a diversified economy of the future that benefits all who live in the Cayman Islands.

Key finding in the report include:

- A growing proportion of Caymanian workers at CEC Special Economic Zone companies, up 4% year on year, from 12% in 2020 to 16% in 2021. We anticipate this number growing significantly with CECs continued contributions to the education sector.

- CEC spent USD 17 million on construction in from 2011-2021, creating a total economic impact of USD 44 million since inception, generating 172 jobs in the construction industry. 55 of these were generated in 2021 alone, with a further 95 expected to be created in 2022 as further construction ramps up.

- The impact on government strategic policy goals has been substantial, with 255 students and adults benefiting from interactive workshops, mentorships, internships, and work placements throughout CEC in 2021. This knowledge transfer to the local community will prepare the local workforce for the industries of tomorrow.

- Government revenues collected from CEC in 2021 amounted to USD 5.5 million, bringing the total lifetime gross (2011-2021) to USD 22.7 million. CEC continues to operate with zero capital outlays from government, while providing valuable insights to policymakers with the intent of supporting the development of future industries.

- CEC directly supports 7 out of the 10 Broad Outcomes outlined by the government in its Strategic Policy Statement 2022/2023, notably the improvement of education to promote lifelong learning and greater economic mobility, and the provision of solutions to improve the well-being of Cayman's people.

The report concludes that the Cayman Islands' economy is set to dramatically benefit from the continued growth of CECs target industries, outpacing current industries that have failed to reach the levels of growth seen before the 2008 Financial Crisis. "CEC is allowing us to tap into growth that our mature, traditional industries have not seen in the recent past," the report by Dukharan reads. "Since the Global Financial Crisis of 2008/2009, the only sector to have reached 10% GDP growth in the Cayman Islands was the Construction sector in 2019." The report then goes on to lay out the expected growth rates of Industries of the Future, including a 39.7% growth rate in the Artificial Intelligence sector, and 24.6% growth in Smart Contracts to name a few.

"Cayman Enterprise City is 100% Caymanian owned and led, and this is something we should all be proud of," said Kirkconnell. "Through transparent reporting, community building, and sustainable development initiatives, we aim to demonstrate our capacity as Caymanians to innovate and diversify our economic base, create resilience, offer immense value, and continue to distinguish our jurisdiction as a world-class hub for innovation."

Financial Services Minister Leads Delegation to EU, UK

To continue face-to-face discussions with key stakeholders on subjects including global tax cooperation, anti-money laundering, and countering the financing of terrorism, the Minister of Financial Services and Commerce is leading a delegation to the UK and the EU.

Minister André Ebanks; the Ministry's Parliamentary Secretary Katherine Ebanks-Wilks; and Cayman Islands Representatives Deborah Bodden and Gene DaCosta will speak with elected leaders, high-ranking civil servants, and industry members during their visit from 16 - 20 May.

"We're continuing face-to-face discussions because it builds understanding, and keeps communication open and transparent," Minister Ebanks said.

"However, in addition to these visits, the Ministry's senior policy staff keep in contact with stakeholders as much as possible via email, telephone calls and video meetings. This lays the groundwork for more productive discussions when we do have in-person dialogue."

He noted that these meetings offer both stakeholders and the Cayman Islands Government an opportunity to discuss matters of mutual interest, such as environmental, social, and governance (ESG); and to identify areas for further clarification and updates.

Following the UK/EU engagement, Minister Ebanks and the delegation will join representatives of the Civil Aviation Authority of the Cayman Islands (CAACI) for the European Business Aviation Convention & Exhibition (EBACE), from 23-25 May in Switzerland.

"Attending EBACE will give the Ministry team insights for potential regulatory developments in aviation, and give CAACI support for their business development initiatives," he said.

The Ministry will update the public on the delegation's visit once they have returned home to the Cayman Islands.

PWD Kicks Off Inaugural Skills Competition

The Public Works Department (PWD) will kick off its inaugural skills competition among trainees in the Apprenticeship Training Programme at its North Sound Road location on Thursday, May 12 and Friday, May 13.

The aim of the competition is to showcase the skills of the students in the programme and create awareness about Technical Vocational Education and Training (TVET) in the Cayman Islands.

Acting Director at the Public Works Department Troy Whorms stated that the skills competition will provide an opportunity for the dedicated trainees to show the skills that they have been developing to shape a better future for themselves. "Our apprenticeship training programme has grown to thirteen programmes since its inception in 2006 and we are fully accredited by City and Guilds London Institute. We want our young people to know that we have many options available for them to build careers in a number of areas so they can contribute to the development of our Islands", he noted.

The skills competition will include electrical installation, carpentry, masonry as well air conditioning and refrigeration.

The PWD has received support from several private sector entities including Androgroup Limited, Phoenix Group, Arch and Godfrey (Cayman) Limited and Dart Enterprises Limited to host the event.

Interested members of the public can attend the competition sessions which run on both days from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.

"Jesus in the Passover Seder", an Elim Community Fellowship Event

"Jesus in the Passover Seder" was the theme of Elim Community Fellowship's (ECF) first Passover Seder event held on Friday April 16 at the Savannah United Church Hall. For thousands of centuries the Feast of the Passover has been kept by the Jews. It was instituted by God in Exodus chapter 12 as a memorial celebration to be observed each year on the 14th day of the month of Nisan on the Hebrew calendar. The Children of Israel were commanded by God to keep it as a solemn observance throughout their generations in remembrance of how he miraculously delivered them from Egyptian bondage of slavery to Pharaoh after many centuries. The Passover was again reiterated by God in Leviticus chapter 23 when God told Moses, "These are my feasts!". In this text God identified seven other feasts along with the Passover, to be general convocations when his people should gather unto him in celebration of them. These feast days are known as Appointed/Sacred Times (Moedims in the Hebrew texts), and specific instructions were given how these were to be observed as well as the day & date of each of the observances. It is amazing how the Passover, instituted 1500 years before Christ has withstood the test of time and is being observed even some 2000 years after Christ, by Jews & Christians alike around the world. Historically, this year's Passover has been special as it falls on the same day of the first Passover in Exodus as well as on the same day that Jesus was crucified.

During Passover observances, the Exodus story is retold as God commanded. The ancient Jewish Rabbis over time has managed to develop a very interesting method of telling the Exodus story using the Passover Seder plate. The element of the Seder plate which will be discussed below, guides the order of "the telling" of how each event was played out in history. However, unknown to the Jewish Rabbis, the Seder elements turned out to be giant arrows pointing to Messiah, the Lamb of God who would come and take away the sin of the world. It is no coincidence how traditions and scriptures has intertwined to reveal Yeshua (Jesus) our Messiah as well as to deliver to the world, a crisp, clear message of salvation. In the Jewish households the Passover Seder is usually led by the Papa, Grandpa or head of the family. However, in Christian gatherings, it is mostly led by the Pastor. This local Passover Seder was led by Delfene (Judy) Gould, the pastor of Elim Community Fellowship.

In this Passover event we followed Jesus' last Passover or Last Supper which took place in Jerusalem as recorded in Luke chapter 22. Attendees participated with the dipping and eating of the Matza (unleavened bread) as well as drinking of the four cups of wine (grape juice) as they re-lived Jesus' final moments before his crucifixion. In the process they ate some Jewish foods, learned some Hebrew words as well as one of the prayers that Jesus would have prayed. The hall with its white and blue décor, messianic background music, lit candles as well as the Jewish minora and flag not only sets the tone for this reenactment Passover but also highlighted the Jewishness of Yeshua our Messiah (Jesus Christ). It is also our way of saying we, believers in Jesus, stand in solidarity with Israel and we are also admonished to pray for the peace of Jerusalem. Keeping Jesus in his Jewish context also brings out the richness of the scripture, originally written in Hebrew & Greek.

The answer to the question of how Passover relates to Christian believers lies in each element of the Passover Seder. This understanding is very crucial for us non-Jews hence their symbolic meanings in a nut shell. The Seder plate consists of elements such

Auto Show raises money for charity

► Rosa McNeill and Minerva's Nissan Figaro

► Children loved sitting in the beautiful red Slingshot

By Christopher Tobutt

Hundreds of people flocked to George Town Waterfront on Monday 16 May for the auto show. The show was put on by Sea, Land & Sky Cayman as a part of the Queen's Platinum Jubilee Celebrations. There were shiny classic and new cars too, huge pickup trucks and gorgeous, gleaming motorbikes. 100% of the proceeds went to support locally-based charities, including R3 Cayman Foundation, Humane Society, Cayman Community Farms, Plastic Free Cayman, and 100 Men who Care.

"It's a really good show," said Jason, who was showcasing his beautiful Skyline GTT "I think it's an iconic car." "This is a 1991 Nissan Figaro," said Rosa McNeill who works for the Minerva Company to which the car belongs, "They only made about 20,000 of them. We have this as our Er-rand car to run around on the island."

There were also some beautiful replica cars. Only a real Jaguar expert would be able to tell the difference between a real 39 Jaguar and the beautiful replica, built in 1981 (and therefore a vintage car, anyway!). "It owned by the same person until about 2 years ago when the guy unfortunately died and his wife kept it for a couple of years," said the car's lucky owner. "Its special because there were less than a hundred made, and it's very drivable, easy to maintain, and it puts a smile on everybody's face."

Another beautiful car that was putting a smile on a lot of faces was a replica of a

1933 Willys, which, if you don't know was actually the name of the company that later made Jeeps. "The company almost went under," explained the vehicle's proud owner, Ken Wendorf, "And then the United States Government said, 'can you build me a vehicle for Word War II?' and when they came out of the war, people loved them so much that the Jeep took off."

Jane Scaletta who was working hard to help make sure the sure ran smoothly, along with a team of volunteers, said "last year we brought back the Auto Show, and this year because it's the Queen's Jubilee we went ahead, and it's a charity auto show, where all the public are allowed to come for free However, all the cars pay a price to enter. You are in the VIP tent now, so they pay the premium price because they're in covered parking. They pay 150 or 200 dollars, depending on if they do a donation with it."

Last year the event raised over CI$65,000 for Resilience Cayman through the Charity Auto Show event hosted by Island Air. This year as part of a 'match' donations made by the Cayman Auto Show to R3 will be matched by the Kenneth B. Dart Foundation, according to information released by the organisers.

Event organizer Douglas Cameron said, "This event is a great opportunity to bring out the whole family and create memories for this once in a lifetime Queen's Platinum Jubilee event. It celebrates the evolution of the automobile all while raising money and awareness for projects and non-profit organizations in our community."

Seven Mile Public Beach Volleyball Courts Closed For Refurbishment

The Ministry of District Administration and Lands (MDAL) advises that a project to refurbish the volleyball courts at the Seven Mile Public Beach began on May 13, 2022 and will continue for approximately four more weeks. While the works are taking place, the volleyball courts will be inaccessible due to interest in public safety. Members of the public are being asked to keep away from the area until further notice.

Commenting on the reasoning for the project, the Minister responsible for Lands, Honourable Juliana O'Connor-Connelly; "As a result of cross-government collaboration between the MDAL, the Ministry responsible for Planning and the Ministry responsible for Sports, plus consultation with the CI Volleyball Federation, it was determined that the sand on the courts was not compliant with specifications within the international competition regulations. Additionally, the sand has now become compacted, which increases risk of bodily injury. It was thereon necessary to replace the sand towards enhancing and safeguarding this public facility situated on Crown land."

President of the Volleyball Federation, Mr. Kennedy McGowan expressed his excitement about the refurbishment; "This project could not have come at a better time. We are preparing to host the 'Under 23 Volleyball Tournament' coming up in summer and NORCECA Tour in the fall. With the new sand replenishment we are able to expand from 2 to 6 courts, enabling increased access for our national athletes, visiting athletes and volleyball enthusiasts alike. For us, it will mean better training capabilities and more efficient scheduling. I am happy that the Government is working closely with their partners to complete this project that will benefit so many people."

The area around the volleyball court and directly behind the old Calico Jacks site is now enclosed with safety/security fencing. Public access will be denied and detours will be established and signposted. The courts will be excavated to remove the old sand which will be stored off site at the National Road Authority's depot. The sand will be replaced by excess sand taken from a local development on Seven Mile Beach. The construction project will be managed by the Public Works Department. The W and B Group were awarded the heavy equipment contract following a competitive tender process.

"A permit was granted by Department of Environment and the Central Planning Authority to use excess sand from a local development situated on the Seven Mile Beach. This sand was professionally and independently analysed and found to be compliant with specification within the international competition regulations. The new sand will be sifted and then trucked in," explained MDAL's, Facilities Manager, Mr. Clive Baker.

Once the refurbishment works are complete, the CI Volleyball Federation will re-erect the nets and restore the courts. MDAL will advise the public about the project's progress and completion accordingly.

as Karpas (parsley), Charoset (a mixture of grated apples, nuts, cinnamon & honey), Maror (bitter herbs), Zeroá (roasted lamb bone) & a bowl of salt water, beitzah (a roasted egg) and Chazeret (another type of bitter herb). The last two were omitted due to time constraints. During the Passover, we drank four cups of wine (grape juice) each representing one of the four promises of deliverance that God gave to the Israelites while they were still in bondage. The promises were from Exodus 6:6-7 the Cup of Sanctification, the Cup of Deliverance, The Cup of Redemption and the Cup of Praise. Two cups were drunken before the meal and two after (as in Luke 22:20, which states 'Likewise, he took the cup after supper saying...').

Another very important element of all Passover Seders is the Yachatz (Matza) (unleavened bread). The Matza is usually kept in a three sectioned pouch called the Matsutoshan. Believers in Yeshua (Jesus) sees this as symbolic of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. The Matza is without leaven and is therefore a symbol of sinlessness. The middle Matza is removed from the Matsutoshan to reveal that it is pierced with holes and that there are stripes which represents the body of Jesus, his sinlessness and suffering. This matza is broken, and one piece now called the Afikomen, which is said to mean which is to come. The afikomen is wrapped in a

The Cayman Islands will offer a warm, final farewell to the first female National Hero and first Speaker of the House, Hon. Sybil McLaughlin, MBE, JP, who passed away last week. She was 93.

The official funeral will span two days. On Thursday, 19 May 2022, the late 'Ms Sybil', as she was affectionately called, will receive a lying in state accompanied by a Guard of Honour inside the House of Parliament. The lying in state, inside the ante-room off the main lobby, commences at 10 am and concludes at 3 pm.

Current and former Members of Parliament (formerly the Legislative Assembly) are invited to join the Hon Speaker and the Guard of Honour at the beginning of the ceremony.

It will be a poignant occasion since she had also served as the first Clerk of the Legislative Assembly, a distinction that was enhanced by her being the first woman to serve as clerk in the entire Commonwealth.

She was also Cayman Islands' only living National Hero until her passing, having been conferred the title during her lifetime; all the other National Hero recipients received the honours posthumously.

In recognition of Ms Sybil's distinction of being a National Hero, Friday, 20 May will be observed as a National Day of Mourning.

Also on Friday, the official funeral service will take place at Elmslie Memorial Church from 1 pm. After the conclusion of the service, a Hero's Farewell will take place at Heroes Square, which will include a 21 Gun Salute by the RCIPS. The emotive cadences of the Last Post and Reveille will also be sounded. The official flag draping the casket will be removed, folded and presented to the family.

In attendance will be His Excellency the Acting Governor, Mr. Franz Manderson, OBE; Premier, Hon. Wayne Panton, JP, MP; and the Speaker, Hon. McKeeva Bush, JP, MP and will include current and former Members of Parliament.

The final funeral procession will move from Heroes Square through South Church Street, turn on to Walkers Road past Ms Sybil's home and onwards to Bodden Funeral Home. There will be no graveside service.

Both Cayman Islands and British flags are to be flown at half-mast on Thursday, 19 May and Friday, 20 May on all public buildings.

A man, age 21 of George Town, was arrested in relation to an incident involving a serious assault, which took place on Sunday, 20 February, outside the Power Supply Bar on Lawrence Boulevard.

The man was subsequently formally charged with Robbery and Assault, and appeared in court on Friday, 13 May. He was remanded in custody pending a further appearance on Friday, 27 May. Enquiries continue with regards to a second suspect also involved.

ther treatment by ambulance. He is believed to have sustained serious but non-life-threatening facial injuries and was later discharged.

US finally eases Cuba sanctions

Cuba's financial woes are likely to be eased after United States officials announced plans to ease tough sanctions imposed by former President Donald Trump.

Under new measures approved by the Biden administration, restrictions on family remittances and travel to the island will be eased. The processing of US visas for Cubans will also be speeded up.

State Department spokesman Ned Price said the move would allow Cuban citizens to pursue a life free from "government oppression".

But the Biden administration is restoring flights to Cuban cities other than Havana and re-establishing a family reunification program suspended for years, following recommendations of a long-anticipated review of US policy toward Cuba.

The administration will also allow group travel for educational or professional exchanges and lift caps on money sent to families on the island. Previously migrants were prevented from sending more than $1,000 every three months.

The policy changes come after a review that began in earnest after a series of protests disrupted the island last July, prompting a new round of US sanctions on Cuban officials.

Cuba is facing the worst economic crisis since the Soviet Union collapsed, with widespread shortages of food and medicines, and thousands of Cubans trying to reach the US. The new policy measures allow the administration to continue supporting the Cuban people and guarding US national security interests.

Donations to non-family members will also be permitted under the new plans.

But US officials emphasised that they will seek to ensure such payments don't reach "those who perpetrate human rights abuses" by using civilian "electronic payment processors".

They also said that no bodies will be removed from the Cuba Restricted List, a State Department register of companies linked to the communist government in Havana with whom US citizens are barred from doing business.

More charter and commercial flights will be made available to Havana, US consular services on the island will be expanded and

► Cuba hopes more American tourists visit soon

► Easing of US sanctions may reduce queues for basics family reunification programmes will be relaunched.

After an easing of tensions under former President Barack Obama, Trump announced a range of sanctions on the Cuban government in 2017.

His administration slashed visa processing, restricted remittances and increased hurdles for US citizens seeking to travel to Cuba for any reason other than family visits.

At the time, Mr Trump cited human rights concerns as the reason for rolling back agreements made by the Obama administration and condemned his predecessor for doing a deal with the country's "brutal" government.

Cuba's foreign minister welcomed the announcement and said the easing of restrictions marked "a small step in the right direction".

But there has been widespread criticism of the lifting of sanctions. A senior member of Biden's Democratic party has condemned the move. Senator Bob Menendez, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, denounced the lifting of restrictions, saying that the Cuban regime has continued "its ruthless persecution of countless Cubans from all walks of life".

Mitchell hopes for third Grenada win

Grenada holds its general elections next month and Prime Minister Dr Keith Mitchell hopes his New National Party (NNP) will secure a third consecutive term in office.

Grenada goes to the polls on June 23. Nomination Day is on June 1. The last general election was in 2018 when the NNP swept the polls again, winning all 15 seats in the Parliament. Mitchell, 75, one of the longest serving heads of government in the Caribbean Community (CARICOM) has already signalled that this election would be his last as leader of the party.

The NNP will face a challenge from the main opposition National Democratic Congress (NDC), who are contesting the elections headed by attorney Dickon Mitchell (no relation).

PM Mitchell said his administration had been able to stabilize the local economy, brought back discipline to the budgetary process, a situation that found favour with the international community.

"We need to judge the last nine years," he said, adding that the last four years had also been one of application and devotion. "We said we will deliver and we did in fact deliver, sisters and brothers. We delivered to the public servants millions of dollars of increases after a period of getting not one cent. We delivered to the youths who had been cast away by re-investing in training and personal development.

He said his administration had also developed the environment for increased investment in the country, warning "we cannot go back to stagnation".

Rum festival starts JA's 60th parties

Jamaica celebrates its 60th year of independence this summer and launches its two months of festivities next month.

The Jamaica Rum Festival will kick-start one great party that commences in June and closes out in August, said Minister of Tourism Edmund Bartlett.

The Appleton Estate rum festival is on June 25 with the likes of Capleton, Tessanne Chin, Romain Virgo and Sanchez performing. The festival will offer several limited-time offers crafted by the world's first female master blender, Dr Joy Spence.

The other big event, which falls in the middle, is the greatest reggae show on earth, Reggae Sumfest, from July 20-23.

Bartlett addressed the media at the launch party for the Jamaica Rum Festival at Jasmine's Caribbean Cuisine in Manhattan, New York, last Friday, urging New Yorkers, particularly those born on the island, to return home to experience one of the most exciting periods in the country's history.

J. Wray and Nephew Foundation's Senior Director of Public Affairs and Sustainability, Tanikie McClarthy-Allen, described 2022 as a big year for the Campari-owned company.

"Not only do we get a chance to talk about Jamaica a little more, but we get a chance to showcase Jamaican excellence; and for us, Jamaican rum represents that. Our rum represents not only excellence, but it is an intoxicating mix of the complex blend and boldness, just like our people."

Missing ingredient for fat loss

There is one simple missing ingredient for fat loss that explains why most people haven't yet reached their goals. It just may be the one thing that's holding you back from your big breakthrough.

That missing ingredient is consistency.

Think about it. The difference that separates a fitness star from a couch potato is the consistency with which the former applies to their diet and exercise routine. That's it!

Look, I know you can exercise and eat right. You've done it before! But a fitness plan only works when you consistently stay with it. You start, stop, start again, take a few days off, then get back on track. This haphazard effort will never lead to a dramatic body transformation!

What if I told you that you're 5 feet from gold? That if you simply dug in a little deeper, and stuck with the program with consistency, you'd finally achieve the big results that you've been hoping for all along.

You are 5 feet from gold; don't stop now!

The fact is that anyone can stick with a fitness and diet plan for a little while. Anyone can complete a challenge. Anyone can finish a 30-day program. Anyone can put in 2 weeks of solid effort.

It's those who click into consistency that see the big changes and experience the joy and triumph of real accomplishment. I want this for you.

I know that you see how valuable consistency is, and you want to do it, BUT you get off track time and time again. How do you tap into the consistency you need to make a real improvement in your life? Use these three steps...

See it: Define exactly what it is you want to be consistent on. For example, instead of saying that "I'll start exercising," say, "I'll do the 5am session on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays." And instead of, "I'll start eating healthy," say that, "I'll eat XX number of calories per day divided into 5 small meals." The more specific the better!

Keep in mind that you are defining your actions – not your outcome. Don't use this step to determine what size jeans you want to fit into. That outcome is a byproduct of you consistently doing the actions. Just clearly define the actions that you need to be consistent on.

Feel it: Now that you've determined the actions needed, let's think about that outcome and clearly define it. Be specific! What will you look like? What will that new body feel like? How will your friends and family respond to the new you?

It's time to get your emotions all tied up in your quest. Daydream about getting to that outcome, feel it, emotionally take ownership of the idea of owning it.

Do it: You're clear about what you want. You feel invested in getting the results. Now go about the business of taking consistent action toward your goal.

Yes, this sounds simple, and it is simple. Be consistent and you'll soon strike gold.

Want accountability? I'd love to help you! Call Ernest at Body Shapers Personal Training Fitness Studio 325-8696 or shoot me an email bodyshaperscayman@gmail.com and let's get you on track to shed some major fat before summer!

Let's do this together.

“Jesus in the Passover Seder”, an Elim Community Fellowship Event

linen cloth and hidden away until after the meal...such amazing significance of our Messiah's death and burial.

Prior to the breaking of the Matza, the Karpas representing spring and new beginning, is dipped in salted water and eaten. This is in remembrance of the tears shed while in slavery as well as their passage through the sea (a symbol of water baptism for believers).

The brown appearance and texture of the Charoset is a reminder of the mortar and the back breaking hard labour building pagan shrines and store houses for Pharaoh. Attendees broke bite sized pieces of Matza and ate after dipping some charoset. The Maror (bitter herbs) is required by God to be eaten at Passover. Matza is dipped in Maror and eaten which should bring a tear to the eyes (a reminder of the tears while in bondage). Next time the Matza is dipped in both the Charoset and the Maror and then eaten as a reminder; that even the most bitter of circumstances can be sweetened by the hope we have in God. It is also important to note what Jesus said, that someone who ate and dipped with him would betray him. The lamb bone represents a Lamb that was once alive and is now dead. It tells the story of the first Passover where God instructed the Israelites to kill a lamb and place the blood on the lintel and doorposts (symbolic of the cross where Jesus' blood would be poured out). This Lamb is also a picture of Jesus our messiah who would become the substitute lamb 1500 years later during a future Passover. At John the Baptist's first glimpse of Jesus he prophetically declared 'Behold the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world!' John envisioned Jesus prior to him becoming the Lamb of God.

The segment after the meal is the most important part of the Passover Seder. The afikomen is brought back, unwrapped, and now is used as we do in taking of the communion. Jesus would have prayed in Hebrew “Baruch ata Adonai Eloheinu Melech ha'olam hamotzi lechem min ha'aretz”. In English “Blessed are you O Lord our God King of the universe who brings forth bread from the earth”. This is followed by the fourth cup which is the Cup of Redemption. So he took the cup of redemption and said “this cup is the new covenant in my blood which is shed for you”, now he hadn't shed his blood yet, but he knew he was about to shed his blood for the atonement of our souls once for all.

So, the story of the Passover is a complete package, a story of love that includes God's plan of salvation for humanity. The good news is that Yeshua our Messiah has always been in the center of the Passover Seder although some haven't yet noticed. The event was a great success, and the meal tickets were sold out as usual with every Passover Seder event. In the end, there were some very positive comments from attendees who expressed appreciation for the event, while some said they were educated, enlightened & entertained.

SUDOKU

Sudoku is a number-placing puzzle based on a 9x9 grid with several given numbers. The object is to place the numbers 1 to 9 in the empty squares so that each row, each column and each 3x3 box contains the same number only once. The difficulty level of the Conceptis Sudoku increases from Monday to Sunday.
