Members of Parliament (MPs) were notified on 19th September that the First Meeting of the 2024-2025 Session will take place at the House of Parliament on 7th October 2024 starting at 10:00 a.m. following the issuance of Proclamations No. 1 and 2 of 2024, which prorogued the Parliament and launched the new session, respectively.

"This past year has been a dynamic and eventful Session," remarked the Speaker, Hon. Sir Alden McLaughlin. "We witnessed significant shifts in Government leadership and key portfolios, tackled important legislation, and engaged in essential debate over the Government's budget, spending, and policies."

Reflecting on a memorable Session, the Speaker added: "It was an honour to be appointed Speaker last November and to host Sir Lindsay Hoyle, Speaker of the UK House of Commons, during his official visit to our Parliament this summer. Now, we look forward to a fresh start and the important work ahead for our nation."

The items of business for the First Meeting of the 2024-2025 Session include Government Motion No. 1 of 2024-2025, "Referendum on Cruise Berthing Infrastructure" which is to be moved in the House by Hon. Kenneth Bryan, Minister of Tourism and Ports. Members have until 5:00 p.m. on Monday, 30th September to submit any additional Motions to the Clerk.

► Hon Speaker Sir Alden McLaughlin

Among the additional items slated for the House is the Information and Communications Technology (Validation) Bill, 2024 and various Annual Reports detailing the activities and expenditures of Government Ministries, Departments, Statutory Authorities and other entities.

Any new Bills would be considered in the following Meeting given the Constitutional amendment in 2020 that changed the consultation period from 21 days to 28 days.

The Business Committee will convene prior to the First Meeting to determine the order of business for each Sitting, with daily Order Papers to be posted on the Parliament's website.

Spectrum financial services conference returns for 2024 with full agenda of impactful issues

The Cayman Islands' premier financial services conference is set to return for its fourth year on 10 October 2024 at The Ritz-Carlton, Grand Cayman. This forum will convene local and international industry-leading experts for thought-provoking discussions aimed at shaping the future of the financial services sector. Government officials will also be in attendance, including The Hon. André M. Ebanks MP, Deputy Premier; Minister for Financial Services and Commerce to deliver a keynote address.

"We're thrilled to be back and I think 'impactful' is the word to describe the agenda this year," said Paul Byles, Director of FTS and founder of the conference. "The financial services sector is constantly evolving, presenting both opportunities and challenges for international financial centres, including Cayman. AI is playing a significant role in many aspects of our lives and in financial services there is no exception. Other key topics such as diversity have become central to understanding the performance of businesses and people management," he added.

This year, Spectrum introduces exciting new topics to the agenda including Revolutionizing Finance: The Transformative Impact of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in Financial Services with international speaker, Seyed Sajjadi, Founder & CEO nFlux AI and former NASA engineer. As the industry stands on the brink of a technological revolution, AI has emerged as a pivotal force, from risk management and compliance to customer experience and operational efficiency. Followed by a panel discussion on AI's integration into the Cayman Islands' financial industry moderated by Chris Wall, Partner at Ogier.

Innovations in Wealth Management and Asset Protection is further panel discussion, where innovative solutions and strategies around these key pillars, considering regulatory implications and both traditional and emerging approaches, will be explored.

A compelling presentation on Global Perspectives: Gender, Inclusiveness, and the Business Imperative by Hayley Barnard, CEO of Mix Diversity Developers will delve into the critical importance of gender inclusiveness within the global financial services sector. Followed by a panel discussion on Empowering Change: Advancing Inclusiveness in the Financial Services Sector, moderated by Tammi Sulliman, Managing Director, TS Consulting Ltd. Integrating diversity and inclusiveness is not just a moral imperative but a strategic advantage that drives innovation and financial performance across the world.

There will be a full spectrum of perspectives on Regulatory Convergence, featuring senior members from the Cayman Islands Monetary Authority (CIMA), the Cayman Islands Institute of Professional Accountants (CIIPA) and the Department of International Tax Cooperation (DITC). Together, they will discuss recent and upcoming regulatory developments impacting our financial, legal, and accounting sectors in this comprehensive session.

Produced and hosted by FTS, Spectrum is a 'must attend' event for senior managers, partners and financial services business leaders from the public and private sector. As the only financial services event in Cayman centered on cross-sector future industry growth, the conference offers excellent networking and sponsorship opportunities, while also promoting the advantages of IFCs and the Cayman Islands' financial services sector.

Spectrum 2024 is a full-day event, taking place on 10 October 2024 at The Ritz-Carlton Grand Cayman and further information including the full agenda and how to register can be found on the website at www.spectrum.ky.

Sponsors of Spectrum 2024 include: BDO Cayman Islands, Cayman National, Cayman Islands Funds Administrators Association, CIBC Caribbean and the Ministry of Financial Services & Commerce.

International Scuba Diving Hall of Fame Announces 2024 Local Honourees

► Joanna Mikutowicz (2024 Local Honouree)

► Andrew Ebanks (2024 Emerging Honouree)

Andrew Ebanks, an entrepreneurial and passionate Caymanian, is this year's Emerging Honouree. All four will be recognised for their contributions to the diving and water sports industry in the Cayman Islands during the annual ISDHF Induction Ceremony on Saturday, 28 September 2024.

The late Captain Ebanks was a leading pioneer in the water sports industry as one of the first people to offer snorkelling tours to visitors in the early 1950s. Captain Ebanks was passionate about the sea from a young age teaching his peers to fish and later building and launching a 61-foot boat in West Bay. Outside of the water sports industry, he was one of the first to have a taxi service, a jeep rental business, sell real estate and establish the local boxing industry. Captain Ebanks was honoured by Her Late Majesty Queen Elizabeth II in pioneering services in the Charter Fishing and Diving Industry on 2 January 1991; and was also honoured as an Early Pioneer in the tourism industry on National Heroes Day on 23 January 2017.

MacDowell, better known as "Barbie" to those in the industry, has been an instructor, boat captain and photo pro in Cayman Brac for more than 30 years. MacDowell started at Divi Dive Tiara and now works at Reef Divers at the Cayman Brac Beach Resort. She started diving at age 17 and gained experience in Lake Huron, the second largest of the Great Lakes in North America. Over the years, many of Cayman Brac's young people have been trained by her to dive the local reefs and walls. Divers at Cayman Brac Beach Resort experience MacDowell's enthusiasm and knowledge for diving as she guides them on their underwater adventures. She was honoured as the Cayman Islands Watersports Em-

Mikutowicz of Divitech, is a dedicated member of the Cayman Islands diving community. As a PADI Course Director and Normoxic CCR Supervisor she has issued over 1,800 certifications and logged more than 15,000 dives globally. Her start in the industry began in 1997 with her certification at Bob Soto's Dive Center in Grand Cayman. Mikutowicz is an exemplary leader who is dedicated to training and employing Caymanians, investing in her team as well as championing marine conservation and raising funds for causes such as the Cayman Breast Cancer Foundation. Mikutowicz has worked on initiatives such as the Grouper Moon project and the Stony Coral Tissue Loss Disease (SCTLD) response team. She hosts the annual PADI Women's Dive Day, which in 2018/2019 broke the world record in the Divers Almanac for the longest underwater female human chain.

The Emerging Honouree category recognises young and upcoming Caymanians making significant contributions to the industry and was introduced in 2017. Andrew Ebanks is a third-generation seaman and continuing his family legacy in the Cayman Islands water sports industry. His start in the industry began in 2007, where he quickly advanced from deck hand to being a captain and trainer at Nativway Watersports. Ebanks is the founder of Islandlife Watersports, which he established at age 23 in 2013. Islandlife Watersports has received multiple Tripadvisor Certificates of Excellence due to Ebanks' commitment to exceptional service. Ebanks is certified through the Maritime Training Certification and Training for Small Commercial License, which is a Captain's license. He is a passionate advocate for Caymanian heritage and marine tourism, including mentoring youth and contributing to conservation efforts. Ebanks received the Rising Star award at the Cayman Islands Tourism Association's (CITA) 2018 Cayman Stingray Tourism Awards.

"The Cayman Islands is fortunate to have dedicated and passionate people in our dive industry, the late Captain Ertis Ebanks, Barbara MacDowell, Joanna Mikutowicz and Andrew Ebanks are all a testament to this, and the islands have benefited from their contributions," said Minister for Tourism & Ports, Hon. Kenneth Bryan. "Scuba diving is an integral part of our tourism industry and I hope that the community will come out to support this year's Local Honourees at the ISDHF Induction Ceremony."

The ISDHF Induction Ceremony and Gala Dinner will take place at Hotel Indigo Grand Cayman on 28 September 2024. The public is invited and encouraged to attend to support the local and international diving community. Visit isdhf.com to learn more and purchase tickets.

Police Week returns after 28 years

RCIPS Announces Police Week 2024

Royal Cayman Islands Police Service

Police Week 2024

HONOURING THE PAST

EMBRACING THE PRESENT

SECURING THE FUTURE

|---------|--|
| VISION | Making the Cayman Islands Safer |
| MISSION | Working with our community, for our community |
| VALUES | Respect, Courtesy, Integrity, Professionalism, Service |

This year, the RCIPS will be hosting Police Week for the first time in 28 years and it will take place between November 4th – 8th. This is an internationally recognised event, which honours, highlights and lend peer support to police officers across the globe. It also allows retirees and the families of late police officers to gather and pay homage to those who dedicate their lives to policing and service to country.

The theme of this year's Police Week is Honouring the Past, Embracing the Present, Securing the Future.

The aim is to ensure that the organisation displays its characteristics of being diverse and inclusive, while also highlighting the times past that moulded our police service into what it is today. In so doing, one of the features of Police Week will be a Police Museum that will be displayed and will be open to the public all week long.

In order to recreate the RCIPS of the past, they are appealing to former and retired police officers as well as to the families of officers who have passed, for any police artefacts, pictures or records that you may have in your possession. The service would like to restore those items if necessary and display them in the museum, highlighting your service to the Cayman Islands and the service of your loved ones. Please email PoliceWeek@rcips.ky in order to have items displayed in the Police Museum.

During the week, the RCIPS will also host the Volunteer Law Enforcement Officer Alliance (VLEOA) Training Conference for the first time in the Cayman Islands. The VLEOA global members will also participate in Police Week activities for a historical appreciation and evolution of Policing in the Cayman Islands as well to enjoy our beautiful islands.

The RCIPS are excited to share this news of Police Week 2024 and look forward to celebrating 117 years of policing in the Cayman Islands with the community

'HeforShe' Representative with the RCIPS WiPN Working Group Attends Conference in Chicago

Police Inspector Antonio Hanna who was the 'HeforShe' Award recipient for the BOT Women in Policing Network in March, 2024, was selected to represent the Royal Cayman Islands Police Service at the International Women in Policing Conference (IAWP), held in Chicago, Illinois between 1st and 4th September, 2024, the theme for which was "We Serve, We Protect, We Lead".

His attendance, was funded by the Foreign Commonwealth Development Office (FCDO), who has been partnering with the RCIPS, guiding the organisation as we establish and develop our own Women in Policing Network (WiPN).

Inspector Hanna, who is also the current 'HeforShe' representative for the RCIPS WiPN, following the official selection process, which took place in June, 2024, was eager to share his experience and important finding from attending the IAWP Conference.

Inspector Hanna stated "I had the privilege to attend the International Association of Women Police (IAWP)2024 Conference held in Chicago under the theme "We Serve, We Protect, We Lead. Attending this conference has provided valuable insights into advancing gender equity, enhancing mental health resources, and fostering stronger leadership within the various law enforcement agencies throughout the world. As HeForShe representative for WIPN RCIPS, I look forward to continuing to champion the growth of women in our organization by supporting each other in leadership and professional growth, as we lead by example in creating a more inclusive and effective law enforcement environment."

Since the implementation of the Women in Policing Network, the working group has been living up to the vision of the RCIPS WiPN of "Enable, Inspire and Empower" as they continue to partner with the FCDO, sending various members away to the conferences and training in order to equip them with the knowledge and expertise required to develop both individually and as an organisation.

We look forward to hearing more from RCIPS WiPN as they continue to grow and influence the organisation with their chose path of equity and fairness

Three Caymanian teenagers have completed a three-month internship at Le Soleil d'Or, Cayman Brac's premier resort. Jia Hydes, Tad McFarlane and Litzy Walton-Valera were exposed to all aspects of hospitality and hotel operations during the internship, which is part of the Dart Hospitality Training Programme. They were provided with a minimum of 30 hours of training per week with an hourly stipend and health insurance coverage.

"I have developed a newfound respect and admiration for those who work in hotels and the tourism industry," said Hydes as she reflected on her experience during a graduation luncheon at the resort in early September. "It really does take a special type of person to work within this industry. I aspire to be as hardworking and pleasant as my mentors - thank you for your patience and the wealth of knowledge you shared with us during our training."

Tad McFarlane was recognised for consistently demonstrating exemplary performance throughout the internship and was offered a full-time position that will see him working across multiple departments.

"It's important to ensure that all young Caymanians have opportunities to explore and experience the hospitality industry. By extending this internship to the Cayman Brac, it has given the younger residents something to work towards and even consider as a career," said Dianne Conolly, who manages the Dart Hospitality Training Programme.

The trio benefitted from direct interactions with staff at the beachside farm-to-table resort and have made a lasting positive impression on Le Soleil d'Or management and staff.

"It has been a pleasure to mentor and work alongside Tad, Litzy and Jia these past few months," said Amar Thottathil, Le Soleil d'Or hotel manager. "Having such a small group of interns enabled us to tailor the mentorship and guidance that the trainees were able to receive."

He noted that the interns made exceptional strides during the internship. "It was a pleasure to watch them grow and we look forward to welcoming them all to the Le Soleil d'Or team when the time is right."

This internship is the latest example of Dart's commitment to providing opportunities for young Caymanians to get structured training and exposure to the hospitality industry. Since 2022, over 35 participants have graduated from the Dart Hospitality Training Programme in Grand Cayman that included in-class lessons and on-the-job training at Kimpton Seafire Resort + Spa, The Ritz-Carlton, Grand Cayman and Hampton by Hilton Grand Cayman.

Another Le Soleil d'Or internship is planned to begin in May next year with the application period opening on 3 March 2025. For more information about the internship and the Dart Hospitality Training Programme, visit dart.ky/hospitality.
